Is inscribed

In Memory of the pleasantest of Literary Friendships.

The only knowledge that can really make us better is not of things and their laws, but of persons and their thoughts; and I would rather have an hour’s sympathy with one noble heart than read the law of gravitation through and through. To teach us what to love, and what to hate, whom to honor and whom to despise, is the substance of all training.

James Martineau.
