THE following pages contain the whole of "The Journal of Llewellyn Penrose," as originally published in 4 vols. 12mo. with some slight corrections to adapt it the better for the perusal of Young Persons.

The interest of the Narrative, which is not surpassed by any work except "Robinson Crusoe," and the delight it is known to have afforded all classes of readers, but especially the young, are the considerations which have led to the re-publication of it in a compressed form, and at one-third its former price, so as to bring it within the class of works intended for the amusement and instruction of Youth.

TO

BENJAMIN WEST, ESQ.

MY DEAR SIR,

I most willingly avail myself of your kind permission, to dedicate to you the Narrative now offered to the Public. I venture to urge this request, not only because your intimate knowledge of the Author, and the circumstance of his having communicated to you many of the facts recorded in it, seemed to require it of me, but also because the respect which the public have long entertained for your virtues and talents might excite an interest for a work which has the sanction of your name. If I can induce the world to read the following pages, I am not fearful of the result of its judgment. It was a subject of pleasing recollection to my father, that this extraordinary Narrative first led him to your acquaintance ; and I am happy that the honour has been extended to myself. From your conversation I have received both pleasure and instruction; and permit me, my dear Sir, to add, that the kindness which I have experienced from you, renders me more devoted to an art which boasts in you a Professor so liberal and enlightened. May you long continue in the enjoyment of the distinction which your merit has obtained!

I am,

My dear Sir,

With great respect and esteem,

Your most faithful and obedient Servant,

JOHN EAGLES.
