Life on the Uplands

Freeman John Dolliver
The text is not clear and appears to be a series of handwritten characters. Without clearer handwriting or context, it is difficult to accurately transcribe.
Life On The Uplands

AN INTERPRETATION OF THE TWENTY-THIRD PSALM

BY

J. D. FREEMAN

NEW YORK
A. C. ARMSTRONG & SON
3 and 5 West Eighteenth Street
Near Fifth Avenue
1907
Copyright, 1907, by
A. C. ARMSTRONG & SON

Published, February, 1907
“If Thou would’st have me speak, Lord give me speech!
So many cries are uttered nowadays,
That scarce a song, however clear or true,
Can thread the jostling tumult safe and reach
The ears of men, buzz-filled with poor denays:
Barb Thou my words with light! Make my song new!
And men will hear, whether I sing or preach.”

—George MacDonald.
Contents

I. A Life in a Love . . . . . 11
II. A Morning Meal on the Meadows 25
III. A Midday Drink from the Well . . 35
IV. A Noontide Rest in the Shade . 49
V. An Afternoon Climb on the Paths 63
VI. Adventures in the Shadowed Glen 79
VII. Supper on the Darkening Wold . . 91
VIII. Twilight at the Sheepfold Door . 101
IX. Night Within the Gates . . . 113
X. Foregleams of the Heavenly Dawn 131